Thank you for your interest in Philatelic Exporter:

The Philatelic Exporter has for 65 years been the independent voice, forum, and market-place of the international philatelic trade. Its international circulation encompasses probably more countries than any other philatelic magazine published in the world. Its readers include stamp and postal history dealers, auction houses, postal administrations, exhibition organisers, national and international stamp trade organisations, and other stamp professionals.

Every issue contains lively and thought-provoking articles by contributors from the UK, Europe, North America, and Australia. For those stamp dealers who also trade in postcards there is even a column on this closely-related hobby. Regular features include news from the international stamp trade, news about stamp trade people, auction reviews and previews, crime reports, book reviews, readers' letters, new issue listings, and photo-coverage of major shows, etc. To help dealers plan ahead there are comprehensive event and auction listings.

But most importantly, the Philatelic Exporter offers members of the international philatelic trade the opportunity to buy from, sell to, and communicate with one another through the medium of its advertisement pages. With over 40 years' involvement, and being editor since 1983, I endeavour to make the Philatelic Exporter a lively and interesting trade magazine, and see no reason not to sign up now!

It is also possible to pay for your subscription by Direct Debit.
